KIELCE, POLAND 2021

Team Delegations’ Handbook

February 2021
Today, in this difficult time for boxing globally which is associated with the limitations imposed by the pandemic, I am especially glad to welcome you to the AIBA Youth Men’s and Women’s World Championships!

Despite all the difficulties, we have been able to unite and create conditions so that young athletes could prove themselves in the ring on a worldwide platform and select the best amongst the best. It is very important for us to support the youth in their transition to the elite stage, so that they can continue to build career in boxing and achieve the best results. Today, these boxers are the future of the boxing world.

I thank the Polish Boxing Association for the huge amount of preparatory work carried out so that the Championships are held in full compliance with all sanitary standards, with concern for the health of everyone.

I am sure that the tournament will be held at the highest level, both in terms of safety and, of course, in terms of the spectacularity of boxing, which will be demonstrated by the participants. The city of Kielce has all the necessary infrastructure and highly qualified specialists, so I have no doubt that this will be an outstanding, competitive Championship that will be remembered by both the global audience and participants.

For us, this tournament will be the first World Championships after the outbreak of the pandemic, and I expect from it, first of all, impressive fights and beautiful victories. We have missed the high-performance boxing, and the tournament in Poland will be an excellent opportunity to resume hosting the largest AIBA competitions in the new reality. We should not give up, our mission as sports officials is to adapt to new realities and provide our athletes and coaches with the best possible conditions.

I would like to wish all our athletes success at the World Championships with all my heart. Let this tournament launch a new stage of your career!

Sincerely Yours,

Umar Kremlev
AIBA President
The Polish Boxing Association, in cooperation with the International Boxing Association AIBA, organizes the first world championship-level boxing event in Polish history, which is AIBA Youth Men's and Women's World Boxing Championship – Kielce 2021. The tournament will take place from 10 to 24 April, in Hala Legionów at Leszka Drogosza Street 2 in Kielce. 200 national boxing federations associated in AIBA structures were invited to participate in the championship.

This will be a great opportunity to promote a positive image of Kielce and to show its tourist, infrastructural and organizational values. Moreover, depending on the pandemic situation, all the teams could have the opportunity to take part in tours showing the most important places in Świętokrzyskie. The entire event will be broadcasted on official Polish Boxing Association's service called PZB TV with option to share it on every streaming services around the world. Championship's finals will be broadcast on open channel TVP Sport HD and all channels which will want to broadcast this event.

Participants will compete for 14 days on 2 boxing rings in a modern sports center Hala Legionów in Kielce. It is a great equipped center which is suitable for this rank of events in terms of infrastructure, sports facilities and sanitary requirements.

As the President of the Polish Boxing Association, I am honored that during this period Poland will be the capital of the boxing world and that we will host so many great athletes. We organize the championships in a difficult pandemic time with the youth in mind, giving them the fulfillment of their sports dreams and hope for the future.

Sincerely yours,

Grzegorz Nowaczev
President of Polish Boxing Association

18. Świętokrzyskie Province

Świętokrzyskie Voivodeship – In a nutshell.

The Świętokrzyskie Voivodeship is one of Poland’s sixteen regions, located at the country’s heart – at its central-southern part. The voivodeship covers the area of 11 710, 50 km sq. km (3.7 % of Poland’s area), and is inhabited by 1,23 mln people (3.3 of Poland’s population). Region borders on the biggest Polish agglomerations – Warsaw, Krakow, Katowice and Lodz – situated aprox. 120-180 km from Kielce – capital city of the Świętokrzyskie Voivodeship.
The region’s name comes from one of the Europe’s oldest mountain ranges – the Świętokrzyskie (Holy Cross) Mountains with its highest peak Łysica (“the Bald Mountain”) – (614 m above sea level). The Vistula River from the east and the Pilica River from the west are the natural borders of the region.

Świętokrzyskie is one of the cleanest of all the Polish regions! 66% of its total area is covered by legally protected natural areas.

2000 years ago, the process of iron smelting in blast furnaces, called “Dymarki”, originated at the foot of the Świętokrzyskie Mountains. It enabled supplying the whole Europe with that valuable resource. During XV century, the silver and copper mining and metallurgy industries developed here, creating a historic cluster – the Old-Polish Industrial Region. In 1782, 27 enormous blast furnaces were used there (in Poland there were 34).

The example of traditional industrial activity of the region’s inhabitants is the Krzemionki Prehistoric Striped Flint Mining Region (near Ostrowiec Świętokrzyski). The complex of stripped flint mines is the biggest in Europe and it is very well preserved. Its historic value is comparable to the megalithic Stonehenge. This is the only place where stripped flint “the stone of optimism” occurs. The jewelry made of flint is today worn e.g. by Victoria Beckham, Robbie Williams, Boy George and members of the Royal Swedish Family. The Krzemionki mines were added to the UNESCO World Heritage List in 2019.

The region is well-known for health&well-being tourism provided by spa resorts located in the cities of Busko-Zdrój and Solec-Zdrój. They are popular thanks to its rich mineral water deposits and have been visited by guests from Poland and abroad for more than 200 years. The area is also famous for the locally produced, natural mineral water “Buskowianka” – one of the most recognizable products from Świętokrzyskie.

Due to its geological structure (the oldest European mountain-chain), the region is extremely popular among geology enthusiasts. All fascinated by the subject, regardless of their age, will find here something for themselves in, e.g. Wietrznia Nature Reserve – Geo-Education Centre in Kielce, Kadzielnia Nature Reserve, Archeological Museum and Nature Reserve in Krzemionki, all located on the Świętokrzyski Archeo-Geological Trail.

Kielce – the capital of the region, is an important center of cultural life in the Świętokrzyskie Voivodeship. The most popular cultural facilities include the Oskar Kolberg Philharmonic, the Stefan Żeromski’s Theatre, Kielce Cultural Center, Kielce Dance Theatre and the Puppet’s and Actor’s Theatre “Kubuś” as well as numerous museums and art galleries. The architecture of Kielce is dominated by sacral monuments such as the Krakow Bishops’ Palace, the Kielce’s oldest Church of Saint Wojciech or the Cathedral Basilica of the Blessed Virgin Mary Assumption. Nowadays, the Krakow Bishops’ Palace is a residence of the National Museum. It is Poland’s best-preserved historical monument of architecture from the 17th century.

Świętokrzyskie is also an educational and sports center with 7 universities, 8 ski resorts, a modern football stadium, 9 sports halls and an athletics stadium. The sports pride of the region is, among others, the Łomża Vive Kielce team – the handball Polish champion and a successful participant of the Handball Champions League.
The undeniable advantage of Kielce is the variety of natural, green areas - numerous parks, squares, picturesque tourist routes and bicycle paths, which the city is very characteristic for.

One of the most beautiful bicycle routes in Poland – the Green Velo Cycling Trail runs through Świętokrzyskie. It is the longest marked cycle trail in the country. It leads through picturesque areas of Eastern Poland. The main route is 1885 kilometers long. The trail has been divided into 12 so-called "Bicycle kingdoms", which meet with great popularity.

The city center can be a quick base (starting point), while visiting the Świętokrzyskie Mountains. Within the city borders there are two of its peaks. The first one is the Telegraf Mountain, 408 meters above sea level, with a beautiful panorama of Kielce and a 500-meter long ski slope with a height difference of 100 m - classified as difficult. There are also hiking and bicycle trails leading through the peak of the mountain. The second viewpoint, which can be reached on foot from the Kielce city center is Karczówka. From the 341 meter hill you can see a sweep panorama of the Świętokrzyskie Mountains.

Świętokrzyskie is also an interesting example of culinary tourism. The local agritourism farms, bakeries, fish ponds, apple and plum orchards and apiaries can be a great journey for our senses, full of healthy and traditional flavors. The regional products, famous all over Poland, such as “Majonez Kielecki”, wines from Sandomierz vineyards, plums from Szydłów, or sweet fudges from Opłatów are especially worth tasting. While in Świętokrzyskie, one must also try the local cuisine, especially “zalewajka świętokrzyska” (a traditional potato soup from świętokrzyskie), dumplings with cabbage, regional cheeses and many others.

Świętokrzyskie is full of unique places which are worth visiting and accessible even during a one-day trip. Numerous monuments, tourist complexes, traditional local cuisine and mild, amateur -friendly mountains - all that makes Świętokrzyskie an ideal place for you.
